Ladies and Gentlemen

With this letter we inform you about the discontinuation of the control panel BHG which you got delivered with your Posiweld welding machine

Because of the advanced life-span of the BHG control panel the manufacturer is not able to offer service or repair for the control panel anymore.

The discontinued product can be repaired until the end of November 2009 depending on the availability of spare parts.

1 Replacement product: Schlatter Commander

For the discontinued product we can offer you as replacement the control panel Schlatter Commander. The Schlatter Commander is a consequent developed and optimized version of its predecessor, with the advantage, that the PC functions of the control panel have been externalized. Because of this the Commander is lighter and handier as its predecessor and because of its ergonomic form better adapted to the operator and his requirements.

2 Compatibility

The Schlatter Commander is compatible to his predecessor. Complete NC programmes will be transferred directly. In addition the programming of the welding programs and the control of the machine can be done through the additional created PC interface.

3 Possible actions
